Another year at Mount St. Helens – bringing you things old and new

Then said He (Jesus) unto them (His disciples): Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old. Mathew 13:52 KJV

As we approach our 13th year as the stewards of the 7Wonders Creation Museum, Lloyd and I, along with our Board of Directors, look forward to bringing you things both new and old, illustrated by Mount St. Helens.

Primarily, we bring the “old, old gospel story.” But, old as it is, it dispels the idea that the earth is billions of years old. God took a mountain to confront us with that notion and show us that out of devastation the Creator God can make all things new very quickly. Jesus, who spoke the world into existence in six days visited man, showing us His same power by stilling the stormy sea. Now He renews sinners by His indwelling presence. God who never changes delights in changing us.

We will strive to make this old message clearer still as we present new evidences from science and the scriptures supporting a young earth and the accuracy of the Bible from the very first verse.

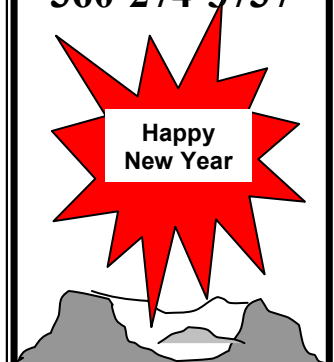

New displays will include a renewed emphasis on how Noah’s Flood changed the face of the earth along with climate, life spans, flora and fauna. We will use professional graphics and better use of space.

We invite you to park in our improved lot with new lighting and to see our many other changes. Mount St. Helens continues to be “Awesome” because through it we can view at least 7Wonders produced by an Awesome God who keeps speaking to His children at “sundry times and in diverse manners.” Hebrews 1:1-2 (KJV.)

Our neighboring tourist businesses will bring you special events to celebrate the 30th Anniversary of the eruption. Look for them at www.creationism.org/sthelens/ or at www.visitmtsthelens.com in the coming months.

The Year 2009 – a banner year in review & looking ahead

Board of Directors Discusses Andersons' Retirement

The 11-member Board met in November to discuss ways they might assist the current Directors in their retirement planning. Options that were discussed included partnering with a larger creation science organization that might be able to build a larger museum on the vacant front lot or assist in other ways. The Board voted to continue discussions along that line. They also went on record as wanting to see the Museum continue to serve the people of the Northwest as well as those visiting here from around the world.

The Museum building and Anderson's house are attached by a breezeway. The Andersons rent the Museum to the 7Wonders Museum, a non-profit corporation of which they are Board members. They do not receive a salary and will need to sell their property in order to retire. The Board asks for your prayers as they seek God's will for the future of the Andersons and the Museum ministries. Last year volunteers served 53 of the season's days, including 20 when the Andersons were away. 93 presentations were made, 32 field trips guided and 19 road appearances completed, including 11 during a Midwest tour. The Museum was open 346 days, typically 9-5.

Improvements increase visitor count: The newly striped parking lot for 11 cars and an RV/Bus slot helped to improve our visitor count by 500 people over 2008. We are delighted to have hosted 2,696 registered guests, the previous high being 2,613 in 2006. Two 25' light posts were added just before Christmas and a ceiling projector earlier in the year. Thanks to all those who made this possible through your prayers and gifts. Also thanks to those who keep telling others about the 7Wonders Museum.

Financial report: The year's revenue amounted to $25,000 from donations and $27,000 from book sales. On 12/31/09, the bookstore inventory equaled, at cost, $12,629.

Road trip: In June the Directors visited the remarkable Answers in Genesis Museum in Cincinnati as part of their Midwest speaking tour. The AIG staff treated them like royalty and helped them think over their own Museum's presentation.

What the 7Wonders Museum does in a small way, they have done magnificently through artistic renderings of dinosaurs, Noah's ark, theatrical presentations and special effects. We hope you can visit there soon. For more information see www.aig.com.

Gift shop: Although space for gifts is limited here, we carry a few interesting souvenirs associated with MSH. We probably have the best prices around on glassware made from ash. We've added emerald gem jewelry made from ash and, in honor of the 30th anniversary, we are offering a 30% discount on rings, necklaces and earrings. Michael Lienau has developed a Flip Theatre booklet that comes in handy for seeing MSH erupt in your own hands; and, where else could you expect to find dinosaur crayons made from tree branches and filled with crayola wax? Along with our creation sticker books they make a great gift for kids. Our Creation Nesting Globes are a good way to teach the six days of creation.

Remarkable year for new science resources: Lloyd kept busy reviewing the many creation science books and DVDs published this year. Four DVDs look back on the legacy of Charles Darwin and how little he knew of what we know now about his evil deception. See page 6 regarding those DVDs from scientists who revisited the Galapagos Islands in the 150th anniversary year of Origin of Species

Important visitors: We were pleased to host Dr. John Morris, president of ICR for a day when he was in the area for a conference in Portland this fall.

Dr. Steven Austin, lead geologist for ICR, guided a very special tour at Mount St Helens for a group who were sponsored by the Seattle Creation Conference. They used 7Wonders Museum facilities for a gathering place where refreshments were served and a pre-tour lecture given by Austin. About 25 were served dinner here following the hike.

Volunteer Mary Ann Stuart was beside herself with delight when Dr. John Meyer, former director of the Van Andel Creation Research Center visited the museum while she was filling in for the Andersons.

Looking ahead: Annual NW Creation

Conference: Saturday, February 13th in Portland, OR.

Call 503-590-8327 or register on-line at www.CreationNW.org until 2/10/10.

Spring Speaking Tour: About April 21st, Lloyd, with Ron Payne, will head east on US 2 with the creation story from MSH and a load of creation science resources. Lloyd thinks he can speak three times a day in churches, Christian schools, home school co-ops, youth clubs and men's breakfasts. If you can help find opportunities along the following route, please call as soon as possible: Yakima-Cashmere-Wenatchee-Elensburg-Spokane/Coeur d'Alene- Colfax/Plumer-Clarkston/Lewiston-Pullman/Moscow-WallaWalla-Tri cities-The Dalles.

Dickerhoof Memorial

Last fall we mourned and celebrated the home going of our dear friend from Mount Vernon, Marilyn Dickerhoof. She had carried us in prayer and with her donations through our struggle over outdoor improvements fully completed last month. We thank God for this one who shared our vision even as she battled with cancer. What a privilege to hear of her life and see how many besides us she had touched. She was truly a lover of truth expressing it through love. May God bless her dear family and loving husband. Many thanks to those who gave in her name.

What is your God Like?

by Lloyd Anderson

Is God holy, pure, just and perfect; or, is he “careless, wasteful, indifferent and almost diabolical?” The former is the God of biblical creation while evolutionist D.L. Hull uses the latter description for a god who would use the billions of years’ process. He reasons, “The evolutionary process is rife with happenstance, contingency, incredible death, pain and horror... (The god behind that process) is not a loving god who cares for his productions... He is certainly not the kind of god to whom anyone would be inclined to pray.” (Hull, D.L.1991. The God of the Galapagos. Nature 352 (6335):486.)

For 200 years God’s people have felt caught in a trap – the words of science against the words of God. Being people of conscience and honesty, most grew to adopt a worldview that let the words of God inform them of God’s nature and grace toward man; but, the words of science to inform them of earth’s history and physical life. Today about 75% of those who believe Jesus is the only way to God and 95% of their colleges and seminaries hold the billions of years’ viewpoint.

The long age approach requires God to have experimented while creating, and in the process to have created inferior forms. Such a process is contrary to God’s omniscience. He could not and would not create an inferior product. In fact, Henry Morris, III, CEO of the Institute for Creation Research, has an entire chapter on “How God’s character absolutely forbids evolutionary methods” in his book, 5 Reasons to believe in recent creation.

Another author, Geologist Andrew Snelling, wrote a brief paper, “Who Is Jesus? A Challenge to Christians.” There he writes that Jesus is first of all the Creator. In His miracles we see that He creates instantaneously. In His very first at Cana, those who attended the wedding feast didn’t have to wait for years for the water to go through a fermenting process and become wine. Suddenly the room was filled with the fragrance of aged wine. There were six water pots standing as reminders that he created the heavens and the earth and all living things in six days.

The millions of years tenant is toxic to the faith of our youth. We teach them that the Bible is God’s word and that God cannot lie. Yet Scripture is laced with the record that God created all things in six normal days just thousands of years ago. So, they conclude that if the Bible is wrong about that, it can’t be trusted. Consequently, the youth of our churches are leaving in droves, writes Ken Ham in his book, Almost Gone.

At my 50th Bible school class reunion I spoke to one of the class leaders about this subject. He became angry, saying, “Lloyd, forget it. It is not important.” How can holding a view that paints our God as “almost diabolical” be unimportant? How can we tell our youth the Bible is true while we explain away creation and the Global Flood? Are we not guaranteeing their departure from the faith?

Physicist Russell Humphreys used to say that 90% of physical processes used as clocks for the age of the earth point to a young earth, while only 10% support a billions-of-years scenario. On TV this week he said that due to recent scientific discoveries, now even those 10% support a young earth. Biology’s DNA evidence solidly supports the biblical view. The same is true for geology’s rock strata. Finally, Humphreys and John Hartnet show that initial starlight reached earth rapidly. Therefore, evolution’s vast ages are stripped of scientific support and should no longer represent a problem for believing the very words of Scripture. It remains an atheistic dream.

Through the ages, countless believers have had misconceptions of God. Even Job, the most righteous man alive in his day, erred to an extent, not understanding how God allowed the heavenly warfare. As a result, God had to ask him, “Who is this who darkens counsel by words without knowledge?” Job 38:2. Although Job had said, “Though He slay me, yet will I trust Him,” he complained against God in his nine dialogues, actually finding fault with God who is holy. (Job 40:2, 17:17-21). When God showed him his error, righteous Job said in true humility, “I..repent.” Job 42:6

Do the 75% of paragraph two and those 95% of college and seminary professors among them have a love for God like Job did? If so, they will need to repent. There is hope for some. In the book, Persuaded by the Evidence, 39, mostly Ph.D. scientists, tell how they came to the biblical viewpoint. One finally arrived in his 80’s.

Job gives us one other thought to chew on. After speaking to Job, God says to Eliaphaz and the others, “I am angry with you and your two friends, because you have not spoken of me what is right, as my servant Job has.” Job 42:7. Their sin was far worse than Job’s because they kept misrepresenting God’s nature. So here God actually tells us point blank how He views us misrepresenting him. Please, evangelical friend, if you have held to the long-ages viewpoint, look at the tidal-wave of recent creation findings and search your heart. Does your outlook point to a holy and pure God or one who is “careless, wasteful, indifferent and almost diabolical,” as D.L. Hull charges?

This year our annual newsletter will highlight serious books in the major scientific disciplines that deconstruct prevailing evolutionary interpretations. These may take considerable time and effort to digest. But, we present them in the interest of that prayer Jesus taught us to pray, “Hallowed be Thy name,”

The long age approach requires God to have experimented while creating, and in the process to have created inferior forms. Such a process is contrary to God's omniscience...Henry Morris III

Darwin Year Provokes Creation Resource Landslide

The 7Wonders Bookstore received 44 new releases in 2009. We ran out of shelf space in July because we couldn't turn such good information down. Many of our generation are diehard old-earthers. So, the following reviews by Director Lloyd Anderson focus on those resources that strip away the remaining faulty scientific arguments they cling to. Here are the ones he deems "blockbusters."

Geology Proclaims a Young Earth

Old-earth geologists have been adamant that the rock record documents an old earth. But, Earth's Catastrophic Past: Geology, Creation & the Flood systematically and comprehensively deconstructs old-earth interpretations of the rock record. This long-awaited update to The Genesis Flood (1961) that began the modern creation movement is the lifetime work of one who eminently qualifies for this effort. Dr Andrew Snelling is both a keen observer in global field geology and a gifted writer. He is widely published in secular peer-reviewed journals, one of three editors of the 818-page ICR RATE II work and director of research at Answers in Genesis.

Many of his arguments are irrefutable, such as the source for two of the sandstone layers in the Southwest. The old-earth idea that those sands were vast deserts developed over tens of millions of years and the formations are simply sand dunes drifted by wind utterly crumbles under Snelling's investigations. In fact, the source and nature of those sands indicate they were deposited in days or weeks and only a global flood could have done this.

Rock Solid Answers: The Biblical Truth Behind 14 Geological Questions gives sound answers to 14 of the strongest secular geologists' arguments against Biblical geologists regarding karsts, paleosols, tillites, rhythmites, varves, reefs and fossil distribution and preservation. In 1997 Oard wrote a book giving evidence for so-called ancient marine ice age deposits actually being gigantic submarine landslides. How dare some non-geologist suggest these formations, put down over vast ages, were the result of sudden marine landslides.

K.R. Henkle, wrote an 89-page rebuttal to Oard published on the website "No Answers in Genesis." He said, "A review of Oard's book clearly shows that it is full of scientific errors, blatant misquotations of the literature, omissions of field and laboratory data that refute YECism, outdated references, and unjustified interpretations of scientific data." (p1). Then, in chapter 7 of Rock Solid Answers, entitled "Landslides Win in a Landslide over Ancient 'Ice Ages'," Oard shows most of the errors are Henkle's, the misquotes are fabrications by him, and secular geology has come to substantiate Oard's insightful observations of 1997.

Another argument has been over varves, layers formed alternately by winter and summer deposits. There are places where they stand a million thick. Clearly this blows a thousands' of years young earth out of the water. Oard raises this issue in the 25 pages of chapter 8, "Do Varves Contradict Biblical History?" Oard claims they do not. Then how does one explain a million of them in one place? It turns out secular geology has defined varves poorly & often confused them with rhythmites that can be put down as fast as one wave following another. This book is filled with the wild accusations of secular geologists and the careful observations of both secular and creation scientists removing each objection from a cloud over Biblical creation.

Last year Oard described the process for producing the world's present landscape in Flood by Design. I have read and reread this book and am so enthusiastic about it that I bundle it with Geology by Design (2007) and sell the two for $20 (list price $30). Oard explains that there were two phases to the recession of Biblical flood waters, first sheet erosion, then channelized erosion. He points to six examples of each kind of erosion found all over the world; yet nowhere are any of these landforms developing today. They can only be explained by the Flood and again, they have characteristics of young formations. I suspect that sharp junior high students can learn the science presented in this book.

Astronomy Proclaims a Young Earth

We have all heard of Newton and Einstein. But Carmeli and Hartnett? Their mathematical equations describe the larger universe and utterly destroy Big Bang cosmology. Their equations explain how 11 billion light year starlight reached the earth the same day all the stars were created. This issue of distant starlight answers the final major stumbling block in arguments against a young earth. While Moshe Carmeli of Israel did his work a generation ago, John Hartnett with Creation Ministries International, presented his physics in Starlight, Time and the New Physics in 2007 and a DVD by the same name in 2008.

Alex Williams, Co-Author with Hartnett of Dismantling the Big Bang: God's Universe Rediscovered, in 2005, writes of Hartnett's new physics, "Once in a generation comes something so new and so important that the contributors are remembered for generations to come. Carmeli and Hartnett, I predict, will be two of those names that take their place amongst the great names in physics. Carmeli, because he extended Einstein's theory of relativity to include the expansion of space, and Hartnett, because he took Carmeli's work and demonstrated the astounding conclusions that arise from it when the universe is viewed from the Biblical perspective. The idea that God created the universe in six days just a few thousand years ago is now not only intellectually respectable, it's a far better explanation for what we observe than its competitors." (New Physics, p3.)

Hartnett says any intelligent high school graduate can understand the seven chapters of his book. But he provides his mathematical equations in six appendices. One person with a college degree in math told me the appendices were beyond his math skills. Russell Humphreys who did his own book and DVD on Starlight and Time a decade ago highly commends Hartnett and is working with him in research. A number of Hartnett's papers on the new physics have been published in reputable secular journals. His work is so new that few creationists are even aware of it.

A major idea he works with is that the universe is expanding—rather the fabric of space itself is expanding so that the galaxies hold their positions in relation to each other. But if it expands too fast it will fly apart. On the other hand if it did not expand fast enough it would collapse inward. God has established these exact tolerances to sustain life on earth. About 11 times this expansion of space is referenced in Scripture!

Contrary to the Big Bang with no center or edge to the universe, observation now clearly shows that the earth is within a million light years of the center of the universe. There is a one in a trillion chance of this happening randomly. Atheist Edwin Hubble, who first observed the vast universe using the Mount Palomar telescope, said it would be horrible if the earth turned out to be at the center of the universe. Humphreys (to right) and Hartnett demonstrate that the horrible is now clearly fact. Ten million educated evangelicals need to digest Hartnett's new physics. Would God be please for you to marvel at the uniqueness of His creation, Day Four, work?

To my delight the latest CMI catalog offers Spike Psarris' 106 minute DVD, What You Aren't Being Told About Astronomy Volume I—Our Solar System.. Hartnett is way beyond middle school students, but they will delight in this DVD. Psarris tells how he was an atheist and evolutionist when he began working as a NASA engineer. What he learned over the next ten years about the solar system led him to become a Christian and Biblical creationist. He has about 230 crisp NASA pictures of the planets and their moons which surround our sun and his presentation is flawless—as smooth as any network announcer. His script is likewise brilliant. You hear again and again “If evolution were true, we would observe such and such, but actually we see just the opposite—exactly what the creation model predicts.”

Biology Proclaims a Young Earth

The third edition of John Sanford's Genetic Entropy and the Mystery of the Genome came out in 2008. In it he says the science presented in his first edition has been supported by discovery after discovery. None of the first edition text was changed. Only author notes to the effect “I told you so” were added. Sanford's associate, John Baumgardner, has designed software to statistically study Sanford's assertion that human DNA is getting worse, as creation predicts, rather than better, as evolution predicts. The findings and much other research support Sanford's premise. Both scientists are appearing in creation conferences, speaking on many subjects raised by Sanford's book. A growing number of these PowerPoint lectures are available from various creation ministries.

One caution: While Hartnett's New Physics separates the technical from the general, each chapter in Sanford's book begins with a basic concept then gets deeper. If you are a layman in genetics, you will need patience to learn these ideas as you read and reread Sanford's book. The information is there. Think of it this way—am I so motivated by my love for God that I will perform such a discipline? I believe that Oard's Flood by Design, Hartnett's New Physics and Sanford's Genetic Entropy are three of a half dozen creation books that Christians, especially well-educated believers, should master, living in a society ruled by evolution.

Genetics is all about DNA. In Signature in the Cell: DNA and Evidence for Intelligent Design, Stephen Meyer writes the first book to make a comprehensive case for intelligent design based upon DNA. Here are three Ph.D. review comments: “A decisive case based upon breathtaking and cutting-edge science,” “Whether you believe intelligent design is true or false, Signature in the Cell is a must-read book,” “Meyer has provided no less than a blueprint for 21st century biological science...After this book, readers will wonder whether anything more than sentimentality lies behind the continued association of Darwin's name with modern biology.”

Darwin 150 Years Later

I am aware of eight 2009 DVD presentations on Darwin. We carry six. Two are big-budget professional documentaries. Movieguide.org says of Darwin: The Voyage That Shook the World, “Fascinating...one of the best-produced documentaries ever made.” As the documentary retraces his five year voyage on the HMS Beagle, scholars, scientists and Darwin experts, who share differing perspectives on the man and the controversy he stirred, examine his findings and remarkable conclusions—and their implications—in the light of modern knowledge. His anti-Christian agenda and faulty science flow to the surface, exposing the twisted theory he left. CMI says that the film was bathed in prayer and God led them to avoid Darwin bashing. As a result this film is suitable for network TV. Strong creationists might think that it pussy-foots with this subject, but CMI reports that it is opening conversations with hardened evolutionists. The body of Christ will come to celebrate this DVD in the coming years.

Vision Forum addresses young, receptive minds, so their big-budget documentary, The Mysterious Islands, is as subtle as a sledgehammer compared to Voyage. Because it is direct, young minds will readily grasp the point—the Galapagos Islands are a showpiece for creation, not a laboratory for evolution. The creatures there show the great diversity God gave to created kinds while not becoming new kinds. Darwin made a horrible scientific blunder, mistaking this great diversity as being newly developing kinds—hence the Origin of Species.

Sadly overlooked has been Randall Hedtke's 1983 book, The Secret of the Sixth Edition. Hedtke, a long retired public school science teacher in Minnesota and well known science educator at the Twin Cities creation group, explains how Darwin reasoned. Darwin would begin a sentence with a tentative idea, raise various concerns, add buts and what ifs, and finally end the argument a mile later leaving you to wonder exactly what he meant. He confessed that he was rushed into his first edition and thus lacked notes and references, saying these would be forthcoming.

Between 1859 and 1872 Darwin released six editions of Origins, but the promised material was never included. In each edition he tweaked whatever sentence or idea needed modifying in order to survive the attacks of his many critics, even his evolutionist friends, Charles Lyell, Thomas Huxley and Asa Gray. In the Sixth Edition he finally acknowledged the fatal weaknesses of natural selection—the very process he had maintained produced the species. In other words, he admitted that his idea didn't work. Why doesn't PBS tell that?

Other Resources Refuting Evolution/Supporting Creation

The finest DVD ever showing that science does not support evolution is Carl Warner's new Evolution: The Grand Experiment, Episode I. Darwin wrote, "If it could be demonstrated that any complex organ existed, which could not possibly have been formed by numerous, successive slight modifications, my theory would absolutely break down." This documentary films dig sites, museums and universities over 12 years on three continents as it explores Darwin's many ideas only to find that nowhere are they supported by science. The secular authorities themselves provide the information in this DVD. There is no evolution bashing; simply the known science from existing authorities.

Who can dismiss Henry Morris III's 5 Reasons to Believe in Recent Creation? This 45-page booklet raises insurmountable arguments to an old earth, such as God's character absolutely forbids evolutionary methods. Buying at the bulk price, churches could give one to every interested family. Henry Morris III also wrote Exploring the Evidence for Creation and The Big Three—Major Events that Changed History Forever.

How can evolution be true when its fruit is so evil? John West's 400-page book, Darwin Day in America—The Corruption of our Politics and Culture in the Name of Science, thoroughly documents the outworking of evolutionary thinking in our society. West was a professor of political science at Seattle Pacific University and spent ten years on this book, including a one-year sabbatical from his school to move his book research along.

Hedtke, who for years served on science curriculum committees, urged, to no avail, that evolution be taught through the discovery principle rather than the affirming principle. Formerly a passive evolutionist himself, Hedtke came to realize that evolution lacked the scientific support that is standard with science. In 2007 he released a second book, How the Confirming Curriculum Violates the First Amendment. Both of these books jar the reader into a new level of appreciation for the extent to which evolution is both folly and deceit. We carry both books as well as a free executive summary of the latter (about 16 pages) which we will email you free upon request.

Jerry Bergman's Slaughter of the Dissidents reveals the shocking truth about killing the careers of Darwin doubters. Any scientific view that is only upheld by throttling the opposition must be terribly flawed.

Bruce Malone just issued (Dec09) Censored Science: The Suppressed Evidence, a beautiful full-color 112 page glossy 8.5x11" book giving what he considers fifty of the most convincing scientific evidences that we do indeed have a Creator. Each facing set of pages addresses one subject and includes a "critics corner" to answer the evolutionists' objections to this creationist argument. It's designed for middle schoolers and above.

In Already Gone: Why your kids will quit church and what you can do to stop it, Ken Ham and Britt Beemer reveal that most of our youth desert their faith by adulthood because evangelical churches infer that the Bible is untrustworthy. How can Genesis and the Bible be right if science proves it wrong?

Jason Lisle finds that the immaterial abilities of man gives us The Ultimate Proof of Creation: resolving the origins debate. In Old-Earth Creation on Trial: The Verdict Is In, he and Tim Chaffey update the foundation of sand that old-earth creationism rests on. Persuaded by the Evidence contains the stories of 39 individuals, mostly Ph.D. scientists and mostly evolutionists who became convinced of creation through science. It is interesting to read just which scientific argument persuaded each individual.

New 2009 Resources for Kids

Dinosaurs for Kids by Ken Ham, and Dinosaurs: Stars of the Show for preschoolers by Amie Zordel; God Made the World & Me: 13 Curriculum Lessons for preschoolers; Creation: 13 Curriculum lessons for grades 1-4 & a dozen more.

Global Warming, I Mean Climate Change

Why include global warming in a list of books on Biblical creation? As with evolution, it shows how a large number of living, working scientists today can be wrong. ICR has published two articles in Acts & Facts by Larry Vardiman in a little booklet entitled A New Theory of Climate Change. It has been observed for many years that increased solar activity is immediately followed by higher global temperatures. He describes the work of European scientists who have finally identified the mechanism for this linkage. When this process heats the earth, the oceans give off more CO<sub>2</sub>, hence the source of increased CO<sub>2</sub>. Global Warming and the Creator's Plan has a zillion bits of information including God's promise that winter and summer, seedtime and harvest will continue until God ends this world.

Many people have thanked us profusely for putting them on to a book answering arguments of evolutionists that had stumped them. If you know of believers who are unaware of these many creation resources or believers who have given in to the old-earth position, tell them that they can read our challenge "What Does Your God Look Like" and this long article describing these new resources on our official website by clicking on the box, Newsletters, then Newsletter #15. In view of this outpouring of resources, why not start a program in your group to read one new creation book or watch one new creation DVD in 2010? Further in this newsletter is a full bibliography of these resources and how you can order them from the 7Wonders Museum Bookstore.

Detailed Listing of 30 New Creation Resources

Difficulty: Suitable for those who can learn science at the middle school level-MS; junior high level-JH, high school level-HS, junior college level-JC, university level-U; for children ages 5-10-CH; for all ages-ALL.

5 Reasons to Believe in Recent Creation. Henry Morris III, 45pp, Nov08, HS, $3/3

Already Gone: Why your kids will quit church and what you can do to stop it. Ken Ham & Britt Beemer, 190pp, May09, HS, $13/12

Astronomy Volume I: Our Created Solar System—What You Are Not Being Told. Spike Psarris, flawless illustrated lecture DVD, 106min, 2009, 230 breathtaking pictures of sun, planets & moons, MS, $20/16

The Big Three: Major Events that Changed History Forever. Henry Morris III, 222pp, Mar09, HS, $13/12

By Design—Evidence for nature's Intelligent Designer—the God of the Bible. Jonathan Sarfati, 260pp, Aug08, HS, $15/13

Censored Science: The Suppressed Evidence. Bruce Malone, Dec09, 112pp, JH, $15/13

Creation: Thirteen 6-in-1 Comprehensive Curriculum Lessons. Haidle, 140pp, Apr09, Grades 1 to 4, $14/13

Creation Proclaims Volume 1—Climbers and Creepers. Jobe Martin creation ID DVD with live wild animals & trainer, 50min, 2009, ALL, $18/18

Darwin: The Voyage That Shook the World. big-budget DVD documentary from CMI subsidiary Fathom Media, 54min, 2009, subtitles in 18 languages including English, special features, HS, $25/18.

Darwin's Dilemma—The Mystery of the Cambrian Fossil Record. Illustra Media professional DVD documentary filmed on four continents, 72min plus 60min of bonus features, JH, $20/18

Stunning new resources proclaim intelligent design (ID)

Unlocking the Mystery of Life (2002) and The Privileged Planet (2004) were followed in 2009 by a final DVD in this series, Darwin's Dilemma —The Mystery of the Cambrian Fossil Record. Paleontologists have long known that the many phyla of life appeared suddenly in the fossil record. Evolutionist S.J. Gould wrote, "The fossil record had caused Darwin more grief than joy. Nothing distressed him more than the Cambrian explosion." See for yourself with all the animation of Unlocking that the Cambrian explosion sounds more like Genesis 1 than evolution.

In 2009 the bookstore began selling the finest ever ID DVD that identifies the designer, God of Wonders. These wonders reveal God's power and wisdom, majesty and love with stunning photography. Earlier DVDs of this sort are Life

Story I and II, and Incredible Creatures That Defy Evolution I, II, & III.

In 2009 Jobe Martin of Incredible Creatures began a new series with the DVD Creation Proclaims—Climbers and Creepers. Through gibbons, the world's greatest acrobats, baboons, the world's largest monkeys, and through some of the world's other most fascinating creatures, Martin with wild animal trainer Dan Breeding helps people of all ages to witness the character, majesty, power and glory of our Creator/God.

Jonathan Sarfati, author of the best-seller Refuting Evolution 1 gives evidence for nature's Intelligent Designer—the God of the Bible in By Design. The book jacket proclaims "At last, a definitive work on design by a leading biblical creationist."

Also just out (Oct09) is the 236-page book Discovery of Design: Searching Out the Creator's Secrets. Its chapter questions, table of contents, index contents and facing pages layout make it excellent for fifth graders and above.

Special Offer – Free High Value DVD. For each $18 or greater DVD purchased, select a complimentary DVD in a sleeve (cardboard envelope) from the following seven: God of Wonders, Unlocking the Mystery of Life, The Privileged Planet, Icons of Evolution, The Case for Christ, The Case for Faith or The Case for a Creator. We sell 16 DVD's for $18 or more: The Voyage that Shook the World, The Mysterious Islands ($20), Evolution—the Grand Experiment, Darwin's Dilemma, Expelled—No Intelligence Allowed, Climbers & Creepers, Incredible Creatures that Defy Evolution I, II & III, Life Story I & II, ICR's RATE Premier Conference ($25), The Fire Below Us—Remembering MSH ($25), Cascadia—the Hidden Fire ($25), Fire Mountains of the West (20), Personal Survival Kit for Earthquakes & Other Disasters! ($20)
